State approved Career and Technical Education Programs

In Michigan, programs are grouped into 17 Career Clusters. Each Career Cluster has several Pathways that lead to multiple careers within a sector.

- Every CTE Program consists of a sequence of courses that begins in high school and leads to a degree or credential after high school.
- Every CTE Program must provide rigorous content that is aligned with challenging academic standards.
- Every CTE Program partners with postsecondary schools that allow students to earn college credits or stackable credentials while in high school.
- Every CTE Program must partner with local employers to maintain current industry practices, provide students with work-based learning experiences, and leadership opportunities.
- Every CTE Program instructor has work experience in a related field and must keep their skills current. They must also maintain a local advisory committee made up of industry partners that provide input into their curriculum and program features.

In Monroe County, students have access to CTE Programs through a countywide consortium.

In the 2017-2018 academic year, 2,346 high school students participated in a CTE Program somewhere in Monroe County.
